Summary

The Agricultural Marketing Institute (IMA) will hold discount food fairs on Wednesday 14 October from 8:00 a.m. in five locations; the Chiriqui one is at the La Estrella community court in Bugaba district. Buyers must show their cédula and are asked to bring reusable bags.

Details (summary of the article)

Mi Diario reports that the Instituto de Mercadeo Agropecuario (IMA) has announced where its agro-fairs will be held on Wednesday 14 October, giving families a chance to buy basic foods at low prices. The fairs open at 8:00 a.m. in five sectors of the country. The Chiriqui venue is the community court at La Estrella in Bugaba district; the others are Cativá sports centre in Colón, La Ermita court in San Carlos (Panamá Oeste), El Rincón Junta Comunal in Santa María (Herrera), and Isla Chepillo in Chepo (Panamá Este). Shoppers must present their personal identity card (cédula), which is an indispensable requirement to buy the products on offer. IMA also recommends bringing reusable bags to carry purchases and help the environment. For Boquete residents the nearest option is Bugaba, roughly an hour away by road.
