Summary

Panama's National Migration Service reports it has been packing and delivering food and logistics support in quake-affected areas since 10 October, with 21,382 food bags assembled and 8,926 delivered.

Details (summary of the article)

Since the hours after the earthquake, the National Migration Service (SNM) has taken part in the emergency response, with staff preparing and distributing food, moving supplies and providing logistical support in affected areas. From the Parque Omar collection centre, migration inspectors and supervisors help move goods to communities in Pesé, Tonosí and Chitré, as well as Soná and other parts of Veraguas. Work also extends to IMA facilities in Herrera, Los Santos, Veraguas and Coclé. From 10 October to the latest record, 21,382 food bags have been assembled and 8,926 delivered in the regional offices and the metropolitan area. At the IMA in Herrera 9,003 bags were prepared and 7,496 distributed; in Los Santos 6,350 bags were assembled and 410 delivered, plus 220 packs of water. In Las Cañas, Tonosí district, 12 tents and five Palex-type showers were installed for a shelter. Migration staff continue their regular duties while supporting relief work.
