Summary

The National Public Services Authority (ASEP) announces that applications for Type B radio and/or television concessions without assignment of main frequencies (No. 903 and 904), or automatic extension requests, may be filed from 19 to 23 October 2026.

Details (summary of the article)

NOTICE. The National Public Services Authority, pursuant to Resolution AN No. 21128-RTV of 9 December 2025, informs the general public that, in the period from 19 to 23 October 2026, applications may be submitted for Type "B" concessions for the provision of public radio and/or television services, without assignment of main frequencies (No. 903 and No. 904). Interested parties are reminded that this procedure costs one hundred balboas (B/.100.00), payable at the time of filing by certified or manager's cheque made out to the National Public Services Authority. In addition, radio and television concessionaires meeting the criteria set out in Resolution AN No. 16403-RTV of 19 October 2020, amended by Resolution AN No. 18062-RTV of 30 November 2022, are entitled to submit an Automatic Extension Request for their concessions within the period described above. Applications must be entered through the Telecommunications Administration System (SATEL), attaching the required forms and documents, and filed physically at the Concessionaire Service Unit (UAC), National Telecommunications Directorate, on the first floor of the Office Park building, Vía España and Fernández de Córdoba. Signed Zelmar Rodríguez de Massiah, General Administrator.
