Summary

SINAPROC's national emergency centre reports 16,302 homes and 52,874 people assessed after the 9 October earthquake, with damage evaluations continuing in the Ngäbe-Buglé comarca.

Details (summary of the article)

SINAPROC's National Emergency Operations Centre continues damage assessment and inter-agency coordination after the 9 October earthquake, as reported by the agency on 28 October. In the Ngäbe-Buglé comarca, 130 homes have been assessed, about 16 of them structurally collapsed, and 668 people registered in the districts of Kusapín, Nole Duima, Ñurum and Müna, including 12 people with disabilities and seven pregnant women. Teams from SENADIS, SINAPROC, MIDES and MIVIOT are working in Ñurum. Nationally, as of 9 p.m. on 27 October, 16,302 homes and 52,874 people had been registered under the EDAN assessment, with 27 injured and two dead, 619 schools and 120 health facilities affected. There are 141 shelters housing 4,501 people, 175 communities assisted and 38 air evacuations; over 208,317 pounds of aid moved by air and 365 tonnes by land. Copa Airlines donated 200 tents on 27 October, flown to Los Santos with SENAFRONT support, while SENADIS distributes wheelchairs, canes, hospital beds, diapers, water and food. Figures are preliminary and will change as field validation continues.
