La solidaridad sigue llegando a las comunidades afectadas

La solidaridad sigue llegando a las comunidades afectadas. La gobernadora de Chiriquí llegó al Centro de Operaciones de Emergencias (COE) de Coclé con camiones cargados de colchones y alimentos secos, que serán distribuidos entre las familias que más lo necesitan. Bajo el compromiso del presidente @joseraulmulino de atender a las comunidades afectadas, el país sigue sumando esfuerzos. La empresa privada también ha dicho presente, demostrando que, cuando trabajamos unidos, podemos llevar esperanza y apoyo a quienes enfrentan momentos difíciles.
