Summary

SINAPROC reports that on Thursday 15 October the Veraguas governor's office, ministries and security forces made 63 operational trips by land, sea and air, assisting more than 90 earthquake-hit communities.

Details (summary of the article)

The Veraguas provincial government, working with national ministries and security forces, carried out 63 field missions on Thursday 15 October to assess damage and deliver humanitarian aid, covering more than 90 affected communities across the province. Of these, 32 were specialised house-by-house technical and social assessments and 31 were cargo runs with food and basic supplies. Teams reached hard-to-access areas including Pixvae (about 40 families, some 20 supply bags), Cabismales (about 80 families, around 65 food bags) and the community of Bolívar in El Marañón (12 families, 12 bags). Maritime operations landed supplies on Isla Cébaco, in the villages of Manzanilla and El Jobo. The border service SENAFRONT provided personnel and logistics to escort and transport supplies to the most distant sites, alongside the provincial technical board, MIVIOT, SINAPROC and volunteer engineers. The damage census of homes is being compiled at the same time as food distribution so that longer-term solutions can be arranged. The governor's operations centre says brigades will stay in the field while communities still need support.
